MU Health Care exceeds revenue expectations but seeks improvements
Missourian – June 11, 2018
MU Health Care hospitals have treated more patients and earned $58 million more than expected so far this year.

University Hospital in space crunch
Columbia Daily Tribune – June 1, 2018
The University of Missouri Board of Curators’ Health Affairs Committee discussed the need for additional space and renovations during its meeting on Monday, but it’s unclear where the money to pay for expansion would come from.

MU names nursing dean*
Columbia Daily Tribune – June 11, 2018
The University of Missouri’s Sinclair School of Nursing will have a new dean on Aug. 1.

MU announces new dean of Sinclair School of Nursing*
Missourian – June 11, 2018
Sarah Thompson was named dean of the MU Sinclair School of Nursing, interim MU Provost Jim Spain announced Monday. Thompson’s appointment will begin Aug. 1.

MU Professor Says New Type of Radar has More Accurate Rain Total Reports*
OzarksFirst.com (Broadcast service in Springfield, Mo.) - June 11, 2018
The University of Missouri says it’s come up with a new way to create more accurate rain total reports

John C. Lamb: Regulations don't make fracking safe*
Boulder DailyCamera.com - June 11, 2018
A recent study by the University of Missouri and other institutions found evidence for groundwater contamination from both fracking and conventional oil and gas development.

New clues to language issues in kids with autism*
Futurity.org - June 11, 2018
"One of the issues with approaching treatment of autism is there are many subtypes and many different genes and potentially other factors that contribute to the disorder,” says David Beversdorf, professor of radiology, neurology, and psychology at the School of Medicine and the Thompson Center at the University of Missouri.
According to the CDC, suicide is the leading cause of death in the U.S.*
ABC 17 News - June 11, 2018
Dr. Kimberly Brandt, an Assistant Professor in Clinical Psychology at the University of Missouri said studies show it can be a contributor.

University of Missouri spent $1.3 million on PR firm to fix negative image after protests*
Fox News – June 11, 2018
Two and a half years after the University of Missouri at Columbia’s race-based protests garnered negative national attention, especially after former communications professor Melissa Click went viral for threatening a student journalist, freshman enrollment is still down, costing the university millions.

Similar stories ran nationally and globally.

Parson strikes healing tone
Columbia Daily Tribune – June 11, 2018
Parson embarks Tuesday on a statewide listening tour that includes a stop at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in Gwynn Hall on the University of Missouri campus.

It’s Time to Stop Blaming Men for Their Mental Health Woes
Psychology Today – June 11, 2018
University of Missouri Professor Amanda Rose has conducted considerable research (link is external) comparing male and female orientations to talking, concluding that males often 'don’t see talking about problems to be particularly useful...men may be more likely to think talking about problems will make the problems feel bigger and engaging in different activities will take their mind off of the problem’

Need a yield boost? Consider subsurface irrigation
Missouri Ruralist - Farm Progress - June 12, 2018
Then he talked with University of Missouri Extension agronomist Rusty Lee. "He told me about this tape thing, and I decided to give it a try," he says.

In A Kansas City Gallery Run By A New U.S. Citizen, Immigration Stories Hit Close To Home
KCUR.org - June 11, 2018
Since January, he’s been in a tenure-track teaching position at the University of Missouri in Columbia, where a school of visual arts has just been officially recognized within the university.

Ozark Life Flashback: Scientists investigate Missouri's oldest tree at Lake of the Ozarks
KY3 - June 11, 2018
A scientist from the University of Missouri located the oldest living thing in Missouri. It’s a tree high above a river in south central Missouri Ozarks.

Singer Neal Boyd dies after struggle with health issues
Southeast Missourian – June 12, 2018
Neal Boyd, who rose to stardom with his robust, operatic voice, died Sunday night at his mother’s home in Sikeston, Missouri, where he had been struggling with numerous health problems. He was 42. Boyd graduated with degrees from Southeast Missouri State University and the University of Missouri-Columbia in 2001.

Similar stories appeared in multiple media outlets including The Washington Post.

University of Missouri-Kansas City
More Missouri babies being born in painful withdrawal; supporting mothers is key*
The Kansas City Star – June 9, 2018
Community partners, led by the Mid-America Addiction Technology Transfer Center (ATTC) at UMKC, are forming a new Kansas City Perinatal Recovery Collaborative to address an issue being driven to new levels by the opioid epidemic.

20 Things You Didn’t Know about H&R Block
Money Inc. – June 10, 2018
Besides business, Henry Bloch has been involved in various philanthropic works as well. The University of Missouri-Kansas City has a school of management named for him.

New college graduate plans to attend law school this fall
Wyandotte Daily – June 8, 2018
Josh S. Gillihan-Young of Kansas City, Kansas, graduated with a Bachelor of Social Work degree this spring from the University of Kansas, and plans to start classes in August at the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Law.

NASA Finds Ancient Organic Material, Mysterious Methane on Mars*
UMKC Today – June 8, 2018
Daniel H. McIntosh, Ph.D., Norman Royall Distinguished Professor of Astronomy & Astrophysics at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, shared some key takeaways from NASA’s announcement.

Missouri University of Science and Technology

The NASA Engineer Making STEM Sing
Great Big Story - June 12, 2018
Growing up, Dajae never saw anyone like her represented in the world of STEM. But after attending Missouri University of Science and Technology as a college athlete, she discovered a love for engineering.

Wikipedia: Today's featured list/June 11, 2018
Wikipedia - June 11, 2018
The alumni of Missouri University of Science and Technology, or Missouri S&T, include both graduates and non-graduates who have attended the University located in Rolla, Missouri.

Business Spotlight: Crash Course
Springfield Business Journal - June 11, 2018
Jake Wannenmacher took the test as a junior. He had a goal to get accepted into Missouri University of Science and Technology's engineering program, says his mother, Carlye Wannenmacher.

Opinion: Workforce policy matters emerge from session
Springfield Business Journal - June 11, 2018
(House Budget Chairman Rep. Scott Fitzpatrick) ... worked to fund collaborative higher education programs, such as the Springfield Clinical Campus partnership with CoxHealth, Mercy and the University of Missouri, and the mechanical engineering partnership between Missouri State University and Missouri University of Science and Technology.
Criminology student Thomas Baker named a 2018 Pat Tillman Scholar
UMSL Daily - June 11, 2018
Thomas Baker was escaping his office and paying one of his regular visits to the Veterans Center at the University of Missouri-St. Louis to do some reading early last semester when he happened upon a presentation about the Pat Tillman Foundation’s Scholar Program.

Information systems graduate Kyle Hopfer takes technological talents to Centene
UMSL Daily - June 11, 2018
While the curiosity was there, Hopfer said he had yet to transform that interest into a tangible skill by the time he declared an information systems major at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. He even remembers struggling with the one relevant class he did take in high school.

John McCarthy navigates career, fatherhood in 11-year pursuit to become an engineer
UMSL Daily - June 11, 2018
The search led him to the University of Missouri-St. Louis/Washington University Joint Undergraduate Engineering Program in 2007.

How to get over your ex, using science
Newshub - June 12, 2018
Sandra Langeslag, an assistant psychology professor at the University of Missouri-St Louis, worked with a research team to analyze which method of getting over a break-up produced the best recovery.

The Chronicle of Higher Education
Women of Color in Academe Make 67 Cents for Every Dollar Paid to White Men
Chronicle of Higher Education - June 11, 2018
Women of color earn only 67 cents on the dollar compared with white men in the higher-education work force, according to a recently released research brief from the College and University Professional Association for Human Resources, or CUPA-HR.

Story generated by efforts of the university’s PR team.